Office Robbery Gets Personal – Part 2

"She made me chew on my own pantyhose!"

(T&G News Service) A T&G Exclusive! T&G interviewed secretary Talia Monet again about the actions of security guard Nikki Steele. "I couldn't believe it. I thought I was being rescued and that guard gags me AGAIN with dirty pantyhose! She wanted to interrogate us both she said. I have to say that her style of interrogation turned me on. Although I don't know how she expected to interrogate that Lana Blake after she gagged her with pantyhose. I finally got her attention...or I should say, got her to interrogate me. But then, that Lana Blake got free...and I tried to warn the security guard, but the gag...all I could do was whimper," an embarrassed Monet explained.

(T&G News Service) T&G tracked down security guard Nikki Steele to clarify how she let a handcuffed suspect get loose. "Okay, okay, I screwed up. I thought the secretary...what's her name...Talia Monet?...I thought she was involved. An inside job. So I was questioning her, but she was very uncooperative. I felt I had to keep her restrained. The fact that she didn't warn me when the suspect got loose...well, that speaks for itself," Ms. Steele told T&G. Asked how she felt about being tied up by the suspect, Ms. Steele answered "It was very embarrassing. Being stripped, fondled, having my mouth stuffed with heaven only knows how many hankies and being tied up in pantyhose...Would you believe I could smell that bitch's essence on the pantyhose she used...those were her own dirty pantyhose...and she had been aroused while wearing them...How do I know that?...I'm a trained investigator. Now if you will excuse me!" With that Ms. Steele knotted a Hermes silk scarf over her head, put on dark glasses, and disappeared into the crowd. Attempts to secure an additional interview from Ms. Steele were referred to her lawyer. There is an unconfirmed report that Ms. Steele still has the pantyhose she was bound with during her ordeal.

(T&G News Service) T&G spoke again to the secretary, Talia Monet, who some are calling a heroine. "Heroine? I was bound and gagged by a crazy woman who was trying to rob our office. I'm just glad that I was able to finally get loose from those pantyhose that were binding me. I like wearing pantyhose, but not around by wrists and NOT in my mouth! Do you know what your pantyhose taste like after you have been wearing them all day? I wasn't going to let that woman do that to me again so I made sure she couldn't. I gave them both a taste of their own medicine," Ms. Monet told T&G, 'Yes, that security guard also...she should be fired!"
